Frost of the losing team went after the individual high single of the league but missed tieing it by 8 pins, rolling 129, which was high for the evening. The Warriors showed up their prize-winning work in the second string, which counted an even 500. Swo Interscholastic league games are scheduled. Westerly High playing at Clinton and Windham High against Bulkeley at New London. As these two are generally picked as strong contenders for the division championship, the consest will be a hot one.

There is also an amateur league to start today—the Eastern Connecticut Amateur league—with six tosms entered, and the games for the first day are as follows: Sterling at Jewett City, Mossup at Coventry, R. I., and Plainfield at Central Village.

STOCK MARKET VERY DULL. Prices Held Up by Sympathetic Effect of Strength in Special Stocks.

New York, April 30.—The stock mar-ket today was but a dull affair and little impression was made on prices by any current events. The excessive duliness was partly due to the interruption of communication with the western part of the country by the storm. Few orders were received from outside sources. The weather conditions were considered unpropitious for the cross and the further rise in the ne crops and the further rise in the the crops and the further rise in the price of wheat was another index of this view. The delay in seeding of spring wheat by reason of the late spring was as much dwelt on as the condition of the winter wheat crop. The postponement of cotton seed planting also came into view. The tene of the stock market elibourh intense. planting also came into view. The tone of the stock market, although intensely dull, was not weakened by the snall participation. Prices were held up to some extent by the sympathetic effect of the strength in special stocks. Union Pacific was supported and its receivery from yesterday's decine had much to do in allaying the apprehension regarding the speculative position which was caused by that decline. The Southern Railway stocks recommed to the news of the sale of further development bonds of the company's notes maturing in 1911 for payment on Nov. 1 next. Western Union was affected by rumors of a combination of telegraph and telephone companies. The last day of the month and Friday offer a double occasion for extra demands on the money market. It was not until late in the day, however, that any impression was made on the call lean rate by the preparations for the May 1 payments and for carrying over stock market accounts until Monday next, The hardening of the money market carly in the week has had the effect of attracting funds to New York from the interior.
